Labor Lead Sliced to 7 By Scots

Northern Seats Go to Liberal, Tory Candidates

From B.U.P. CP Despatches LONDON, Feb. 27.—Prime Minister Clement Attlee completed his new cabinet today and scheduled an audience with King George tonight to inform him of Labor's plans in view of the election setback.

Attlee and his top advisers figured out their legislative program as the tiny majority of the Labor party shrank even more with the arrival of returns from all but one of the 825 constituencies in the House of Commons.

The Labor majority was whittled down from ten to seven over all other parties by returns from three constituencies today. Two seats went to the Conservatives and one to the Liberals.

FINAL STANDING The final standing of the parties on the basis of returns from last Thursday's election, with one by-election to be held in Manchester, March 9, was:

Lab 315, x-Conservative 280, Conservative Liberal 14, National Liberal 2, Liberal 9, Irish anti-partition 2, Independent 2, Independent 1, vacant 1.

(x) The Speaker, originally elected as a Conservative, is not included in the Conservative total. He votes only in case of ties and is considered non-partisan.

Attlee probably will announce the makeup of his new cabinet within the next 24 hours after he has submitted it to the King, this evening.

LAST TO REPORT The 64th constituency to report, raising the Conservative strength to 280 seats, was Inverness in Scotland. It gave Lord Douglas-Home, Conservative, 10,656, Capt. J. N. Thompson, Labor, 11,236, and J. M. Bannerman, Liberal, 8,023.

Conservative strength in the new parliament rose to 285 when the remote Argyll constituency reported. The northeast Scottish district gave Maj. D. McCallum, Conservative, 10,250 votes, I. Nicholson, Lab., 9,215 and J. M. Hall, Scottish Nationalist, 400.

The Liberal party won its ninth seat as reports circulated that the Shetland Island constituency reported. The result was J. Grimmond, Liberal, 12,237, Sir James M. H. Nevill-Speke, Conservative, 6,281, H. Leslie, Labor, 4,198.

The election will be held March 9 to fill the 64 of the 625 seats.

POLICY SPLIT SEEN The labor strategy board met as reports circulated that the Labor party hierarchy was split on the policy to be pursued in view of the election setback.

Aneurin Bevan, leader of the left wing of the Labor party and health minister in the old cabinet, was not at today's conference. He also failed to attend an emergency cabinet meeting Saturday at which the decision was reached to carry on despite the election reverse.

Bevan's absence from the two sessions set off reports that he was about to lead a left wing revolt on Labor members at parliament who believed the government should resign.

Bevan himself said there was "nothing sinister" in his failure to attend the Saturday meeting. He said he was visiting a friend and just didn't know there was to be a cabinet meeting.

Widespread Search for Escaped Leopard

WILD LEOPARD leaped from this 18-foot pit to freedom at Oklahoma City zoo Saturday. Beast jumped from mound at bottom of pit to base overhanging rocks on left, then to right and out over embankment in centre. Zoo-keeper Julian Fraser looks over fence into pit.

SEARCHERS ARE shown in wooded area where they hunted for beast after its escape. Here, zoo manager Fraser (right) and Oklahoma City police officer Joe Rankin look into hole in embankment where officers thought beast might be hiding. Newly-arrived at zoo from India, leopard is terrorizing city residents and all-out efforts are being launched today to round beast up.

ATTLEE VISITS WITH KING LONDON, Feb. 27. — (AP) — The King received Prime Minister Attlee at Buckingham Palace tonight for the first time since last Thursday's general elections. There was no constitutional requirement for Attlee to seek an audience with the King at this time, since his Labor Party was victorious in the polling. Presumably his visit was a courtesy call.

Bill Reveals Mineral Boom

Alberta's mineral boom is reflected in a Land Titles bill which will get second reading in the Alberta legislature today. The bill, amending the Land Titles Act, will protect buyers against unscrupulous dealers in mineral rights titles and will prevent the Registrar of title from being used without cause.

Under the present act sale of mineral rights is void until a certificate of ownership, has been issued by the Registrar.

TREMENDOUS VOLUME Volume of sale of rights has been tremendous in the past year that in some cases it has been impossible to issue registration certificates immediately.

The amended act will provide that the sale of mineral rights in such cases is valid, but that action cannot be taken against the Registrar until a certificate of ownership has been issued by him.

Another section of the bill will provide that persons who build homes in error on lots which do not rightfully own will be able to claim the value of their improvements.

They may also seek a court order giving them a fixed compensation for the land.

Many Plants Forced to Close

From B.U.P. and AP Despatches PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27. — The United States economy reeled today as the full-scale soft coal strike rolled into its third week.

Millions of persons in allied industries face unemployment unless production is resumed quickly. Already 180,000 workers have joined the 372,000 striking United Mine workers in idleness.

U.S. Steel Corp. announced a drastic cut in operations at its Pittsburgh district mill today as a result of lost coal shortage.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., "Big Steel's" largest operating subsidiary, said operations this week in the area will drop to 35 per cent of capacity. Last week they were 90 per cent. Several other steel firms were reported ready to follow suit.

However, the coal shortage still threatened an industrial break-down this week. A country-wide survey by the United Press showed that more than $16,000,000 worth of goods are being held up at mines in West Virginia and Pennsylvania and there was no sign of a return to work movement by the strikers.

Needy individuals in some cities present pitiful pictures as they try to buy coal.

In St. Louis the most helpless cases are those in poorer sections who had been accustomed to buy coal by the basketful.

Some families are walking streets looking for anything to burn—stray boards.

Authorities feared new picket violence. The miners' nerves were frayed by empty pockets and hungry families.

In central West Virginia, miners threatened retaliation for arrests and prosecution of pickets. At a meeting of 400 miners at Richmond yesterday, plans were made for an expedition of 300 pickets against waive jury trial. Keesh brought the union info court for trial of the charges because its members refused to obey a court order directing soft coal miners to return to work.

As the trial got under way after a half-hour conference in Judge Keesh's chambers, Hopkins announced that the union waived its right to a jury trial in the case.

The government immediately called its witnesses. Representatives of the union and the coal mine owners held a bargaining session all day Sunday in an effort to reach agreement on a contract before the contempt trial started. But the parity broke up shortly after midnight without agreement.

Negotiations were resumed indefinitely today after a 45-minute session.

It Happened Today

A practical joker with a warped sense of humor sent fire engines, an ambulance and a hearse to a Calgary home early Sunday morning.

Telephone calls to the fire department, an ambulance and a funeral home were made shortly after 7 a.m. and all responded to the calls.

The householder was unable to give police any clue as to who had made the calls.

A man bearing papers that identified him as an atomic scientist, was being treated today in Detroit hospital, an apparent atomic victim.

Police said papers in a brief case identified the man as Gordon F. Howe, 37, of New York. His papers, some signed by a former U.S. secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, showed him to be a nuclear physicist, police said. Included were certificates of awards for contributions to atomic energy research.

A once-bitten twice-shy service station proprietor in Vancouver today turned the tables on a would-be burglar.

H. H. Bohart of suburban Burnaby said a customer followed him into his station to get change from a purchase, then whipped out a pistol and said: "This is a stick-up, Mac."

Bohart pulled a gun out of his own pocket with the retort: "You're the stick-up man."

"That's a toy gun—this is a real one."

The man fled.

Bohart said he carried the weapon because he was robbed two weeks ago.

A cleaver-wielding grocer put a holdup man to flight in Thorold, Ont., Saturday. When the would-be bandit, brandishing a gun and blackjack, ordered Peter Luciani to "leave the money," Mr. Luciani picked up the cleaver and went for the thug who ran out the door and escaped in a car.

What's in a name?

Absolutely nothing, say Vancouver police officers who answered a call to a downtown department store Saturday and charged John Law with theft under $25.

Later, that's the name the thief picked up—alleged to have shoplifted goods valued at $5.

This railway accident delighted the officials.

A Canadian National Railway passenger train last night plowed into a section car on a spur track near West-minster, B.C. Investigators found tracks of barley strewn all along the line.

They found the section car had been stolen and deduced that the train interrupted would-be thieves who were loading the bulky swap onto it from a box-car.

An airliner and seagulls are not birds-of-a-feather. That was proved in London, Ore., yesterday.

A United Airlines' plane from Seattle left down on the Columbia airport runway. Several hundred gulls were on the strip—and took off.

The airliner was in a hangar for repairs—damaged motor cowling and cracked cockpit window. About 80 gulls promptly went to heaven.

Passengers were delayed until another airliner was brought in from Seattle.

Mormville Home Burns

Special to The Bulletin

MORMVILLE, Feb. 27.—(Wide-awake neighbors passed the word that a fire had broken out at three a.m. today as 50 volunteer firemen tried in a 30-minute battle to bring the flames in the home of Harvey St. Giles in the southeast section of town.

Nearly residents were aroused by Mrs. Alice McLavender, night telephone operator, after the fire alarm first was phoned by a neighbor of the St. Giles property.

The smoldering fire started from hot ashes placed under the wooden porch of the frame residence. Firemen chopped off the porch and saved the building.

Fire broke out in the southeast-injection in the walls of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Toms. The house was a two-story bungalow. They recently came here from California.

Smoke from the smoldering woodshed blew through the driveway. Firemen coughed as they took to the house, shouting "water into the walls of the 45-year-old Williams for the night."

Love Fails to Find Way To Ensnare Big Steer

VANCOUVER, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—A 1,000-pound steer rounded off a lost weekend today, but stockyard officials had the head-ache.

The half ton of beef on the head broke out of a Vancouver stockyard Friday night. It still was footloose and fancy free today as stockmen, police, and several scores of amateur cowboys set out to practice lassoing here they learned during the weekend.

Tom Hain, whose stockyard the animal broke out to romp through from a fence and past pedestrians before being captured into the nearby bush, said "it's not dangerous as long as it's not cornered."

HEAVENLY BURNED BODY on San Francisco bridge is that of Thomas McNally, 32, of nearby Richmond. He staggered from his burning automobile after car separation island fire, barrel-rolling 225 feet and burst into flames. McNally suffered third degree burns and other injuries. Alberta Coal Men Show Concern About Future

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—Alberta coal mine operators are concerned over the future of their industry, E. G. Haswell (SC-Macdonald) said today.

"The Alberta operators are worried," he said, "because of the increasing use of diesel engines by Canadian railways. The railways are big customers of the Alberta mine operators and every diesel engine put into operation in western Canada has the effect of reducing coal purchases," Haswell said.

The western member said the coal companies are not liable to be affected immediately, but that they were apprehensive about what the next five or 10 years would bring.

SALE FIGURES

Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures showed that in 1948 Canadian railways bought 2,290,440 tons of Alberta coal, and United States railways 1,425 tons.

The bulk of the Alberta coal purchased by Canadian railways was used by the CPR, which has its main lines in western Canada. Meanwhile W. E. Uren, chairman of the Dominion Coal Board, said today the supply situation in Canada had become very serious.

ADADEQUATE SUPPLIES

Uren said a weekend survey of the coal supply picture showed adequate supplies generally, though there were shortages in delivery in certain metropolitan centers, particularly Toronto, Hamilton, and London.

Uren cautioned consumers, however, against becoming panicky. "The government," he said, "will try to keep people from becoming hysterical over coal shortages."

IT WOULD BE SIMPLE

Easy for H Bomb to Kill Every Person in World

By ALTON B. LAKESLEE
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The hydrogen bomb, if it works, could easily be made a suicide bomb to kill everyone in the world, four top atomic scientists warned today.

At the same time, they said it probably would be another three years before it is even known whether such a bomb can be produced.

If it did and when such a bomb is made, it would kill slowly by poisoning everything and everyone with radioactive dust.

The dusts would be carried around the world by the winds. The dust would be in the air people breathe. It would settle on and poison plants and trees, everything human ate or used.

Scientists could intentionally rig an H-bomb to do this, they declared. It would be simple. They would just put harmless chemical elements around the H-bomb. The bomb itself would turn these chemicals into fantastic killing dusts.

Great Naval Strides Seen in Russ Move

Honor For Big Task Completed Is Shown by Army-Navy Division

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Russia has created a navy ministry free from control by the ministry of the armed forces to emphasize the Soviet Union's increasing importance as a sea power.

The president of the Supreme Soviet issued a decree Saturday establishing the new ministry and appointing Admiral Ivan Papanov, 54, as its first minister. Papanov was formerly deputy minister of the armed forces and commander-in-chief of the Soviet fleet.

Formulation of the new ministry followed by two months of the disclosure by the authoritative British publication, Jane's Fighting Ships, that the Soviet Union was building up its naval strength in a program called the "Great Naval Strides."

The big task accomplished was the building up of at least three ultra-modern battle ships and up to 1,000 submarines. The big task was to be completed by the end of 1950. The ships were to be equipped to fire anti-air torpedoes and rockets. The submarines were to be long-range types with a high submerged speed. Four hundred of them were listed by Jane's as intended for service in the Pacific, which has been dominated by the United States since World War II.

Experts here believe that the navy was rewarded for successful completion of the tasks assigned it under the 1946-1950 five-year plan by creation of its own ministry.

One of the tasks assigned in 1946 was the creation of a new navy north of the Soviet Union, and north of Siberia from European Russia to the Pacific. Others were a great addition to the merchant marine and the building of new ports.

Transformed foreign observers here believe Russia has made great strides in its drive to match its land strength with sea power. The Russians themselves consider the soviet union a great naval power.

Separation of the soviet army and navy follows their unification by decree four years ago. The two branches of the armed services were united by decree on Feb. 28, 1946 into the commissariat of the supreme soviet, which also took over the air force. A simultaneous decree formally established the navy as a separate entity.

Subdivision Name May Be Changed

A change of name for the city subdivision of Jasper Place just inside the city's western limits, may be considered.

Civic officials today suggested that since most residents of West Jasper, place, just inside the city limits, are in favor of changing the village name to "Jasper Place," it would be a good idea for the city to let the subdivision by some other name.

This would leave the new village free to accept the proposed name without confusion arising.

Cases Crowd Police Court

Follicle morning court in weeks kept Edmonton police court busy today as 40 persons faced charges ranging from asping gaining leave to obtaining mail by false pretenses.

A crippled war veteran, John Huzar, was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the gambling house charge after assistant prosecutor J. G. Beaudry asked for a lighter sentence than customary on the grounds of special circumstances.

The court was told that Huzar had been running a rummy game in the rooming house which provides his livelihood and that most of the players were roomers.

Of the 40 cases, 10 of the seven persons arrested as found-in and outstayed. The other three pleaded to and were each fined $10 and costs.

criticism Over Lack Of Policy Prowse Is Heard As House Busy With Debate

Failure of the Alberta government to announce a housing policy in its throne speech drew criticisms on the floor of the legislature today from J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader.

Mr. Prowse termed the housing situation "probably one of the most important social problems today." He spoke in the debate on the speech from the Throne this afternoon.

He said every suggestion which has been made to the province to meet the housing shortage has "met with nothing better than dejection."

The Liberal leader claimed that Premier E. C. Manning's announced stand that the government is interested only in a scheme which might effectively reduce the cost of housing is "an admirable intention, but does not seem to have been practical."

No follow-up has been made to the plan voiced earlier by the government to reduce the cost of housing by about half the present figure, he said.

"I would suggest to the premier that he and his government either present to us here a scheme which will give practical effect to the good intentions he has voiced or that he admit he is taking impractical theories," Mr. Prowse said.

Governments oil policy was also under fire from Mr. Prowse.

OIL POLICY The present policy, the Liberal leader said, is allowing large corporations to alienate up to six million acres of crown land, in "flagrant contravention of the province's own regulations which say that nobody can have more than 20,000 acres reservations."

Proven oil reserves disposed of on a cash bid basis effectively bar local persons from participation in the current development of the province's oil resources, as small operators can bid only on fringe and unproven property.

Others who spoke this afternoon to the Throne speech debate were Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs, and J. C. Halmrast, (SG-Warner).

Auto Tests In Summer

A motor vehicles' inspection campaign will be launched here April 15 for two months, Edmonton Safety Council officials announced today.

The program will be carried out through co-operation of all Edmonton garages offering oil, tire, fluid mechanic and backed by city police, the council officials stated.

Prizes, lights, window stickers and horns are the four principal parts that will come under inspection.

STICKERS Each car pronounced roadworthy for summer driving will receive a windshield sticker. A charge of 25 cents for the sticker will go to the Edmonton Safety Council to provide funds to carry on its educational campaign.

Council officials stated that cars not bearing the sticker after the check-up campaign starts will be subject to a ticket from the city police department "requesting the owner or driver to take his vehicle to the station for a safety check."

Similar campaigns will be held at Drumheller, Red Deer, Camrose, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, and Inglewood.

Figures On Beer Sales

Alberta Liquor Control Board sold 117,000,000 gallons of beer to Albertans from April 1, 1946 to March 31, 1949, the annual report of the board shows. The report was tabled in the Alberta legislature by Premier E. C. Manning.

Sale of wines totalled 18,000,000 gallons; 462,000 gallons of liquor and spirits and 80 gallons of alcohol were sold.

Revenue during the year was previously reported at $17,043,336 from the sale of beer, wine and spirits.

It's a big red chariot, swift as a rocket and pretty as a brewery calendar.

But it's not nearly so glamorous as a spark scattering, star spangled, old fashioned, steamy fire engine, drawn by a team of good, fast horses, which know where the fire is and want to get there in a hurry.

SERVES 30 YEARS That's the fairly grizzled, blue-eyed chief of express opinion and he should be an authority because he's just about completed four decades of service in Edmonton's fire department.

He first started doing his job to protect the city's citizens and property from smoke and fire back in 1911 when he paid fire department was about three years old and fireman's day was 21 hours on call.

The other three hours were for sleep, the chief remarks.

In the course of the smoke-stoking years since he answered his first alarm he has been by turns rookie fireman (just out from Scotland), lieutenant, captain, then, from 1929 to 1939, deputy fire chief, and finally, chief.

FAST FOR FIVE BLOCKS His long tour of duty has been spent mainly at the city's No. 2 fire station, known in the department as "Central Station" on 104 street.

In those days 104 street was a mud lane that could have bogged down a motorized unit at times, but just gave the big fire horses a nice workout.

"For a five-block run they were faster than anything mechanical," Chief Magregor states, fondly.

"After that they slowed down a little."

Central station had seven horses at the time, to draw one horse was a mechanical wagon, a ladder truck and the then chief's special deluxe fire buggy.

That compares with today's equipment of aerial ladder truck, three pumps, service ladder truck, Chief's deputy chief's and fire marshals' cars.

WAS $60 A MONTH Crew was about the same as today because of the 24-hour shift, although actual staff was only about one-third of present numbers.

Pay was $60 a month and duties included the wearing of a big "scoop shovel" leather helmet that "shrank and squeaked your head every time it was exposed to a little heat."

"The modern helmet is a great improvement," chief Magregor concedes.

He remembers the first call he took personally at Central Station. "There's a fire at Kemp's Plumbing shop on Namoi," said an excited voice.

"Everybody went to work in a double-quick time," he relates. "Soon as the gong went a button was pressed telling the horses out of their stalls."

"By the time we slid down the pole, they were standing under their harness and pawing at the doors."

Harnesing was a matter of seconds, he recounts. He pointed to the holes that still remain in the ceiling of the old part of Central Station.

"The harness hung there, in

Titles Building
Tenders Called

Work on the new provincial government Land Titles Building to be constructed on property opposite the court house on 100 street will commence early in April, government officials said today.

Building will be of steel-concrete construction with a stone face and will cost approximately $700,000. It will be three stories in height with a full basement.

Area is 100 by 150 feet.

Tenders for excavation and concrete work up to and including the first floor slab, have been called and will be received until 11 a.m. on Friday, March 31 by the department of public works.

P. Campbell, chief of Edmonton building architects, will furnish those making bids with plans and specifications.

New land titles building will replace the one now in use in the rear of the Edmonton court house. This building has become inadequate, due to heavy increases in land title work in the past few years.

Government officials have not yet decided what use will be made of the present building.

New building should be ready for use in about one year.

Orphaned Boy to Get Good Home

Four-year-old Steven Kendus, orphaned through the shotgun murder of his mother, Mrs. Olga Kendus, east of Edmonton last month, may soon have a new home.

A provincial Department of Child Welfare official said today that the Kendus boy is being cared for "one of the department's foster homes for the time being following his release from hospital."

The welfare department will make application to an Alberta court in the near future to obtain legal custody of the child, who escaped when his mother was slain in her bed by a rejected suitor.

The future of Steven will depend largely on the decision made by the judge who sits on the welfare department's application, an official explained today.

Application to have the child made a ward of the government will be made after the court's decision is given, the child may be legally adopted.

In the meantime little Steven is being well cared for, department officials said.

Medical Costs Increase

That notable increase in the cost of medical and surgical care deplored by the Clinical Surgical Society of Western Canada, meeting in Edmonton, can be matter of course, meeting in government aid in the matter of diagnosis.

Most of the people of Canada, as well as this newspaper, are vigorously opposed to state medicine.

We can imagine nothing more debilitating to the medical profession than to be taken over by the government, as that profession was taken over in England under the Attlee administration.

But just as there is nothing fatal to that viewpoint in government aid to medical research, so there is nothing fatal to that viewpoint in government aid to diagnosis.

We specify diagnosis particularly because it is diagnosis which is the difficult and costly part of medical practice.

The average general practitioner cannot begin to equip his office with all the expensive devices now in use for the efficient detection of disease.

Therefore, the general practitioner, unless the case is a simple and obvious one, is forced to send his patients from specialist to specialist and from clinic to clinic all of which, in turn, must pay for their increased costs in costly equipment.

The logical way, then, to bring down the high cost of being sick is through the establishment of government supported diagnostic clinics in the country which would function in pretty much the same way as the valuable cancer clinics operate in Alberta.

Accurate diagnosis would be the business of the state.

Cure would be the exclusive business of the private physician or surgeon.

In that way the government would add immeasurably to the efficiency of the general practitioner. It would reduce the cost of treatment to the ailing. And in no way would the free enterprise of the medical man suffer from government interference.

The cancer clinics in Alberta have saved the lives of thousands who otherwise would have hesitated to undertake the costly and lengthy task of discovering what was the matter with them.

What principle could be applied to every disease.

It should be applied to every disease.

Something For City Folk Too

City dwellers as well as rural residents will find much of both interest and profit in the seventh agricultural short course at the Sales Pavilion March 1, 2 and 3.

Arranged jointly by Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and Alberta Department of Agriculture, sessions will provide three emphases. Soils, seeds and weeds will occupy the first day's spotlight, livestock the second, and farm machinery the third.

Big innovation this year will be introduction of visual and practical demonstration, after six successive years of more formal education involving straight lectures, with posters and movies.

By moving from Masonic Temple to Stock Pavilion, officials find it possible to display a wide variety of visual aids such as livestock and actual farm implements. This year's course will be a 100 per cent practical course.

Officials hope thus to add not only interest but more lasting educational benefits.

Top-ranking experts have been assembled to give instruction in each of the three main divisions.

But, asks the city dweller, "what interest does this all hold for me?"

Chamber of Commerce officials re-

postedly stress the truth that the main source of annual new revenue in this district is agriculture.

"We are keenly interested in it being in a thriving condition. It is 'Anything that helps the district farmers do a better job invariably and inevitably reflects on the prosperity of city businesses and city residents'."

While the bare program of the course may at first glance look dull to an urbanite, further study and some investigation will show there is much of interest to what is presented.

Two examples from the program illustrate that.

The first is "Good Beef—what is it?" discussion led by J. L. Pawley, supervisor, Dominion Livestock Marketing Service, and J. E. Fetherstonhaugh, Market Services, Edmonton Stockyards.

Second is the women's section program Wednesday afternoon, when women experts will discuss "Your Food Dollars Sense," "Machine for Clothes and Fabrics," and "Furniture Facts."

Good farm crops and good city business go hand in hand.

The agricultural short course will help both farmer and urbanite to better understand and help each other.

Easing the Problem of Divorce

Ontario's proposal to legalize civil marriage in that province will greatly simplify the national problem of divorce.

Up until the present, Ontario has been one of the few places in Canada where a divorce could be obtained without the required to seek the service of a minister of religion.

Hence every Ontario marriage has been, in a sense, sacramental, the point of view of a sacramental marriage.

The projected amendment to the Ontario Marriage Act will authorize judges and magistrates to perform marriages.

This means that the civil or non-sacramental marriage is introduced into Ontario for the first time.

The objection of most Christian communities to divorce has been on the fact that a civil authority, such as a court of law, cannot dissolve or nullify a sacramental act.

Commissioner Mendis is authorized as saying that negotiations are still underway and the report was used only as a last resort. Productivity Here Bars Many Imports

Big Developments In Industry Curtail Need To Buy Elsewhere

By Norman M. MacLeod
Exclusive to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—Federal economists said today Canada brought its dollar and trade troubles on itself by growing up.

They said the dollar shortage of Canada's most important foreign customers came about through a spectacular growth of this country's industrial self-sufficiency during and since the war.

Latest figures issued by the federal statistics bureau showed Canadian industry was producing about 112,000,000 worth of goods a year in close to 35,000 plants employing 1,250,000 men and women.

It is a far cry from that in 1939. Total production then was less than 15,000,000, turned out by fewer than 700,000 employees in hardly 8,000 plants.

The growth brought about a situation in which Canada today produces most of the things it used to get from nations that use pounds and shillings instead of dollars and cents. Now Canada is actually such products overseas to compete with the warring areas of Europe.

Government economists say the textile industry is a prime example of this trend.

DOUBLE PRODUCTION
Some 1300 textile plants operated in Canada before the war. They turned out textiles worth $200,000,000 a year and employed 12,000,000 in the plants.

Today there are more than 3,500 textile mills whose 20,000 employees contribute to build up an annual turnover of more than $2,000,000,000. Even allowing for price increases, the volume of textile production in Canada practically doubled since prewar days. More important, in addition to increasing, it diversified.

'BAD PAPER'
Loans to U.K. Can't Be Paid For 50 Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Although the European economy is improving through United States dollar aid, it isn't healthy enough to pay off direct dollar loans before the year 2000.

That's the estimate Paul G. Hoffman, director of Marshall Plan aid, gave Saturday to the house of representatives foreign affairs committee.

Representative John Vorys (Rep. Ohio) suggested to Hoffman during discussions on the $1,100,000,000 proposed to keep the plan going another year that further aid should be in the form of loans, instead of a straight gift.

Hoffman said it would take 50 years for Britain and other western European countries to earn enough dollars in foreign trade to repay American loans. "They can't pay," he said. "Bad paper is not an asset. It's only a headache."

Coast Bandit Fails In Two Holdup Trys

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Robert Banther, 20, of Vancouver was arrested yesterday following two unsuccessful attempts to hold up Ottawa taxi cab drivers.

Police said the two holdup attempts took place within a few minutes of each other in the centre of the city.

Banther was arrested by police radio car officers as he left the second cab.

Police, unannounced to the area of cab driver Dineen, arrested Banther as he left the second cab driven by John Alford. Both drivers said they believed a gun had been used, but police found no trace of a weapon in Banther's possession.

Gunman Picks Wrong Person

SASKATOON, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—When Mike Meakling tangled with taxi driver Bill Badk's car gun point in Saskatoon yesterday, he picked the wrong man.

Police said Meakling tried to hold up Badk by forcing him into the cab. But Badk, who was armed for 10 months, kept the would-be kidnapper. When Meakling tried to get away for a moment, Badk wrestled the gun from him and marched him off to police.

Cow Breaks Record

DURHAM, England, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A seven-year-old cow, named "Moore Pacific Diana," today claimed the world's daily milk production record for Jersey. Producers R. W. Wheldon of Durham University, the cow's owner, reported her milk production for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. at 1904 pounds. He said the record for Jersey was 845 pounds.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Now I know why Latins are noted as lovers. It's because of chaperones.

Sounds paradoxical, doesn't it? But listen to Richard Montalban, latest heart throb of the bobbers. He admitted Latins have the reputation of being great lovers and explained why:

"Latins develop great ability at love making because it is a necessity. It stems back to the customs of the country. In Mexico, for instance, a man has little time to tell his loved one all the things he wants to.

ONLY A FEW MINUTES
"The girls are constantly chaperoned, so the boys have to take advantage of the few minutes they can find to be alone with their sweethearts. They have to accomplish in a few moments what the American male can take a whole evening to say."

"Latins rely more on words than action. They are much more effusive than the average lover. They put all their feeling into words."

"In the United States, there are no chaperones, no time limit. The fellow feels he has plenty of time to get around to telling the girl how he feels."

What Made Sammy Quit?

Monday mumbings . . . and whatever became of referee Sam (Skinhead) Rosen?

See nothing was the score at the end of the first. And even for rink-riders feared for the sport.

Personal report on the Flyers' three-game losing streak: It couldn't matter less, coming as it has at this time, providing someone Currie has the recipe for sailing the slide before a tougher series of reverses does something to them, something that could easily do it. In connection with the pair of losses on the road last week, along with the decade's 8-4 thumping administered by Saskatoon at Soudout Saturday night, it's getting around that coach Currie recently had to substitute the mailed fist for his customary good hand in his relations with at least one of the rink-riders. "Get down to business or else," supposedly was the substance of the Currie dictum to this key member of the squad. . . . So?

Add for the Quis-Kid only-dept.: What Quaker player is looked upon by coach Riley Mullin as the most valuable on his team? (Answer at end of column.)

One of the first of the glad-handers to reach the dressing room of Varsity Golden Bears Saturday afternoon, following their final conquest of the Saskatchewan Huskies of the puck world, was Prof. Maury Van Vleet, director of physical education at U. of A.

Whatever become of Belin? Ben Hogan?

It Won't Be Walk-Rites or Mortons

John Ducey, maestro of Renfrew Park and general manager of the newly named Oilers, took time out at the week-end to deny that either Mortons or Walk-Rites of the Ladies Senior Hockey League are the same as the franchise in the Big Four Baseball circuit. "These rumors obviously were started by persons whose sole purpose is to undermine the confidence of our fans in the league," he said. "I can assure you that the game of baseball," Mr. Ducey pontificated, "as far as fallball, it continues to be what I've always called it—a physical condition." . . . Remember Jesse Flores, little Mexican right-hander who in 1946 he's been recalled from the minors by Cleveland Indians, is slated to take over some of the relief work previously handled by Satchel (Big Boy) Paige, venerable Negro hurler recently cast adrift.

Add plug-of-the-week dept.: to Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick for a lot of splendid work in connection with the highly successful promotion of the annual Bulletin Golden Gloves. And as he says himself, "this is ONE thing Hardy'll never be able to take away from me."

If it's a guy trying to follow a tough act you're looking for, consider the plight of Toronto Globe and Mail sports columnist Bruce West. He has taken over from Jim Coleman, ace manipulator of words, who recently checked the whole thing to "make some real money."

One Loaded Gardens Equals $8,000

Attention R.J.: Anytime the Gardens is loaded—meaning that the standing room also has been sold—probably represents a box office take of over $8,000. . . . Not peanuts, eh? . . . The news about Bob Solinger is all for the better these past few days. Injured in practice when struck in the eye by a puck, he's feared for the time the former Flyer strongboy would the rigors of the optic, thereby quite likely terminating his hockey career, a few exceptions like Tommy Burlington and Jo-Jo Crookall to the contrary. However, it's reassuring to hear his sight and doctors have promised Solinger that he'll be back in the Pittsburgh line-up before too long. . . . Don't be surprised if 'Gabe' Patterson, the football-baseball star, returns to western Canada again this year. . . . Tom Kelly, who first-bassed it at Renfrew Park during the war years, will train with the world champion New York Yankees, starting any day now in St. Petersburg, Fla. . . . Whatever became of Pat McEwan, rascaler in these parts in the days of promoter Mike (De Dutch) Cutcher?

A bad back kept Bill Maher out of that Quakers-Flyers scuffle Saturday. His back ached so much that he had to be carried to the rink by two men. Maher at Saskatoon last Tuesday to bring on the condition, following which the Quaker winger collided with Alex Kuzma in practice, to further aggravate matters.

What chance has the Edmonton Oilers' night have a new six-furling race track, sooner than even a lot of horse-racing bugs to quit?

Answer to quiz: Ken (Red) Hunter. . . . Whatever became of the man who was a year's tapper . . . who predicted Calgary Stampede would have trouble making the WHL playoffs?

'Cats Upset Eagles In Basketball Final

Varsity Beavers won the Alberta Junior Men's Basketball championship by downing the Edmonton Eagles 52-48 at the Varsity gym Saturday night.

Learn-to-Ski Campaign Concludes

Keith Hamley won the Recreation Commission's Learn-to-Ski slalom final which was staged Saturday at the Mundus Hill.

But he may be disqualified today because he competed in the city ski learn-to-ski held recently. If Learn-to-Ski director Jack Kelly can establish to his satisfaction that Hamley did compete then first prize will go to Colin Courleigh.

Ken's first finished third Saturday but will become second place winner should Hamley get the prize. Donald Carter, fourth place finisher Saturday, would thus move into third position.

The team title went to Municipal with Hamley, Courleigh, Dolores Alkinson, Steve Rosen, and Jack and Bill Robson aboard the sled. Varsity claims that campaign was a success with 75 of the 185 school kids the lessons received "graduate" diplomas. These will be presented at a meeting in the Recreation hall on March 1.

ALBERTA-RAISED race-rider Johnny Longden looks back after crossing finish line the winner on Noor in famed Santa Anita Handicap at California track Saturday. Calumet Farm's Citation, two Lea and Ponder follow.

Longden Recalls Riding Here

Johnny Longden was one of those "cool, calm and collected" persons you read about in the mystery thrillers, when contacted via telephone by the Bulletin in the jockeys' quarters of the Santa Anita, California, race track, late Saturday afternoon.

Just minutes before the Taber, Alberta raised race-rider had cleared his third Santa Anita Handicap, the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

And behind Longden had finished the worst coast night of famed Calumet Farm's Citation, two Lea and Ponder Kentucky derby winner, Ponder.

"Was this his greatest thrill as a race-rider . . . did it rate about of his Kentucky derby win on 'Count Fleet' in 1957?" He was asked.

"No, I wouldn't say it did," he answered.

"What horse—or horses—was he particularly worried about going to the gate?"

"Guess I was worried about all of 'em," he said. "Citation and Ponder," he laughed.

Had he known where Citation was all the way?

"Sure. He was in front of me part of the time. I caught him along about the three eighth pole."

"What had Noor won?"

"Two lengths . . . two good lengths I thought."

"Did he have a chance to ride any of the other horses in the race?"

"Signed up to ride this horse on two mornings ago."

"What about Noor? Was he in 'Count Fleet's' class . . . or did Longden's off-spring stand that 'Count Fleet' is the greatest horse I ever rode still got?"

"Yes, I think it does. It still does."

"No, I didn't break my maiden in Edmonton and I can't remember any special races there. But I won lots of races in Edmonton. I know that."

By the way, say hello to the folks up there for me. (MOHIER)

Vegreville Wins Wainwright 7-1

VEGREVILLE, Feb. 27.—Vegreville Rangers came back strong to win their Eastern Alberta Hockey League playoff with Wainwright Commandos game 7-1 here Saturday night. The win deadlocks the two teams at a game each.

Floyd Hantak paced the locals with three goals. Bob Ounreuch scored twice. The Rangers also scored for the Kanas.

Some "potted Ranger" goalie Bud Brodhead's shutout by tipping in Ray Strate's pass in the third period.

CRU Votes to Relax Import Regulations

"If that's for it, we're for it," was the Cal Anderson speaking.

Anderson, the man who has been asked to say such things on behalf of the Edmonton Eskimos import regulation.

He was referring to the decision of the Canadian Rugby Union to relax the American import rule to permit seven Yanks being signed for both regular league and playoff competition.

Previously, although its affiliates unions could decide on the number of Americans allowed in league competition, only five were eligible for CFL play.

Anderson feels that the move will give Eskimos a freer hand, allowing them to ignore one or two top-flight Canadians with whom they were dickering.

"Under that rule," Anderson said, "I would be able to get a good American player. And you can bet that we'll do just that."

Other important business discussed at the CRU's meeting Saturday in Toronto's Varsity Stadium on November 25. Seating capacity of the stadium will be increased from 19,000 to 27,000, and Grey Cup tickets or seats on the same—$80 or more—will be sold at $40 for end seats.

CITATION FOR NOOR AT SANTA ANITA

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A big-eyed North-struck a knockout blow at the conquering Calumet and the rest of the field Saturday with a startling 11-length triumph over Citation in the 13th renewal of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

Carrying the red and white stripes of Charles S. Howard into the winner's circle for the third time in this classic of the turf. Noor came from behind to beat the standard bearer of the famed Calumet Farm threesome.

For what save there was for the Big Three, Citation got second. Two Lea third and Ponder fourth as the 11 candidates set out on the 11-mile race.

The Howard five-year-old hit the wire in track-record time of two minutes and 41 seconds. He broke the record set 10 years ago by another great Howard horse, Seabiscuit, in capturing this same race. The Biscuit's time was 2:10 one-fifth.

Noor paid off $140,000 and $2.35.

Edmonton Skaters Extends EAC To Junior Series Limit

By Ernie Fedoruk

WETASKIWIN, Feb. 27.—The Northern Alberta Junior Hockey league final is all tied up, mainly due to the efforts of goalie Red McPherson of Wetaskiwin.

Playing before a crowd of 600 here Saturday night, Wetaskiwin has extended the best-of-three playoff series at a game each as they downed EAC 4-1. Clumbeu won the first game 3-1.

McPherson was sensational in the nets. The Clumbeu outshot Wetaskiwin and held a wide edge in territorial play. In the second game, Wetaskiwin's defenceman Don Perry succeeded in scoring upon the red-haired goal-keeper.

Dale McKee, Doug Campbell, Bill Macpherson and Murray Swanson accounted for the Wetaskiwin markers.

TAKES EARLY LEAD
McKee and Campbell counted midway through the first period, both taking coming in the space of a minute and five seconds while Perry was serving a penalty. Perry picking up Leo Dupuis rebounded the rubber pass McPherson at 17:10 to make it 2-1 for Canadians.

McPherson, playing with torn ligaments in his right knee, slipped home Wetaskiwin's third goal at 22:20. The game ended in a 4-1 victory for the home team.

The early starting time of the winning team will have to catch train for Saskatoon at 10 o'clock tonight.

WIN IT EASY?
Schnieder, who turned in the fastest single goal of the season with a time of 6:49 seconds of the 30-40, wet-down covered corners, placed second when he slowed up on his second run to 5:43 seconds, 23 seconds slower than the world record.

The race was virtually a contest between Schnieder and a team skater who was clocked at 2:18.1, a half-second ahead of Schnieder, Christian Pava.

Goalie Morrison of Banff had the best time of 1:58.1 in the 30-40-foot vertically dropping course with 2:15.5. Best United States skater was George Macomber, West Newton, Mass., with 2:12.1.

Zeno Colo All Alone At Banff

BANFF, Alta., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Zeno Colo, the Italian world champion, yesterday won the North American slalom championship with two senior slalom runs down the three-quarter mile slalom course in a very snowy, his time was 2:10.6.

Victory for Colo, who Saturday won his North American slalom title, also gives him the Alpine combined of the downhill slalom runs and a clean sweep of Canada's first North American slalom championship.

In winning the slalom, the former ski speedster from Northern Italy had the satisfaction of outstriking George Schneider, who had earlier this month at Aspen, Colo., won the world slalom title. Colo also holds the world downhill and giant slalom titles.

Schneider, who turned in the fastest single goal of the season with a time of 6:49 seconds of the 30-40, wet-down covered corners, placed second when he slowed up on his second run to 5:43 seconds, 23 seconds slower than the world record.

In Near Coma Six Months, Lauder Dies

STRATHAVEN, Scotland, Feb. 27.—(HUP)—Sir Harry Lauder, Scot minister and comedian, died yesterday from effects of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered last August. He was 72.

At his bedside was his niece, Miss Grete Lauder, who had accompanied him on several of his world tours.

Sir Harry had been confined to bed at his home "Lauder Ha" since he suffered the hemorrhage Aug. 26. Much of time he was unconscious. His niece kept an almost constant vigil at his bedside.

The drollard humorous Scot was known throughout the English-speaking world for the trademarks of his many public appearances—crooked blackthorn walking stick, killed bow legs, tam o' shanter and infectious chuckle.

During World War II Lauder spent much of his time entertaining troops despite his doctor's warning that he should take a rest.

Last Aug. 4, he celebrated his 70th birthday with an evening songfest. Dressed in his customary kilts and tam, he sang all his favorite songs in his customary broad Scot dialect. He was struck down soon after.

Sir Harry began singing as a boy minister to relieve the monotony of hours deep under the ground. As a child he worked in a flax mill, then spent 10 years in the mines. Throughout his career he composed his own music and wrote his own songs.

Three Escape Regina Jail

REGINA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Three prisoners escaped from the Regina jail Saturday night after slugging a guard and leaving him locked up with the night keeper in a cell.

The trio used keys taken from the keeper to open doors of the jail building, six miles east of Regina. They fled in a jail truck, later abandoned in the city.

The escapees are Robert Hugh Tomlinson, 26, of Regina, recently sentenced to six years for attempted robbery; Carl Johnston, 26, of Vancouver, serving a year for cash; and Thomas Deal, 35, of Winnipeg, serving two months for false pretences.

Following reports that a car had been stolen in Regina and a small grocery store entered and several cans of food taken, police considered the possibility the trio were responsible and were trying to get out of Saskatchewan.

Salutary Effect Seen For Break Of U.S.-Bulgaria

Exclusive To The Bulletin
PARIS, Feb. 27.—(HUP)—Donald R. Heath, former American minister in Sofia, said today that U.S. action in breaking relations with Bulgaria should have a salutary effect on other Communist-controlled countries of eastern Europe.

"The Bulgarians were quite surprised and certainly disappointed when the United States broke relations, though they had every reason to expect it," Heath said when he arrived in Paris on his way to the United States.

Heath said that the United States had broken relations with Bulgaria because of its support of the Hungarian government.

Two Are Rescued In Plane Drifting On Stormy Gulf

VANCOUVER, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Two bedraggled men arrived here Saturday night after four hours of sailing on the stormy waters of the Gulf of Georgia on their crippled amphibious aircraft.

Soaking wet, but apparently none the worse for their experience, Capt. Albert E. Wehner of Jarvis Island and Pilot Lawrence Manie of Vancouver were put ashore by the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Elizabeth.

Capt. Wehner is the German-born scientist whose plan to send a ship to Brazil on a hunt for gold was barred last week by the provincial attorney-general's department.

Watermain Construction Right Sought

Authorization of new watermain construction work to $117,836, to service the 1950 building program, will be sought from city council tonight by city commissioners.

Most of the mains would be built on the south side, with biggest share going to the area from 69 to 81 avenue, and from 75 to 90 streets.

All work would be extensively advertised, and petitions against it duly considered, before construction starts.

Frontage assessment would be charged on a 25 year basis at a rate of 34 cents per front foot per year, plus a maintenance charge of 10 cents per front foot per year in perpetuity.

All additional costs, estimated at $74,506, would be borne by the city.

on the TOWN...

By Jack DeLong

It Pays to Advertise

I love those dear hearts and gentle people
That live in my home town.

And I can sure hum this song with a new appreciation after what happened to me on Saturday. For what happened to me on Saturday is just about the nicest thing that can happen to a fellow on Saturday or any other day.

Remember me "Wondering" in this column the other day about where I could borrow two dollars until payday? Well, that little query turned out to be broadcast on the waters that came back as real dough.

No sooner got into the office Saturday morning when the phone rang and a fellow who said his name was Askin said he'd send me two bucks for the "askin'." I provided I gave him Elegant Esle's phone number. I had to turn the man down of course.

But in the morning mail I got two letters. One was from Jim Conway. He had enclosed two one dollar bills along with a note saying he couldn't bear thoughts of me not having money for coffee at the place where Elegant Esle works.

Second note with two bucks enclosed was from my old friend Benny Benjamin, who thoughtfully sent along a copy of his Railway Employees' Time Book that he publishes.

There was just one disturbing note along with the bank notes. The handle is for the Bulletin. It was the amount of the day we get paid at The Bulletin.

Elegant Esle is puzzled about Mr. Detweiler of New York wanting a 90-year lease on his Miracle Mile Project.

"How in the world can Mr. Detweiler be sure he'll live that long?" asks Esle.

One "Trick Too Many"

Saw, 96 women in half was just good clean fun. Pulling rabbits out of hats was just good. Making rings, watches and the like disappear and re-appear was easy as pie, but producing an ordinary chair for an Alberta cabinet minister to sit on was the very peak of my art. I have reference to the Edmonton magicians' show the other night.

The show was all set to start when somebody burst into the backstage area shouting:

"We just gotta find a chair for cabinet minister Alf Hoke."

Anyway, it was a grand show.

The Bulletin's Tom Dwan, who goes east soon as director of national advertising for four dailies and a radio station, received a neat little gift Saturday.

It's one of those classy evening pencils with a transparent handle. The handle is filled with headache tablets.

Present came from Ernie Gater, advertising manager of Sterling Drug (Canadian) Ltd., Windsor, Ont., on occasion of 30th anniversary of the company.

Now there's the very pencil for making out those income tax forms. What do you think, Mr. Gordon Northfield?

And by the way, Tom Dwan is out at Victoria on a business visit. He'll be back to say goodbye to all his Edmonton friends before taking over his new job in Toronto.

Pat's Out Fishing

Edmonton's Pat Ashby, who didn't get back into parliament last election because not enough people voted for him, isn't suffering much these times.

Just received a note from Pat, who's away down in Sunny California.

Pat fishes for bass and when the sun shines in Los Angeles and hits for the desert on foggy days. Fightin' Pat is staying with a couple of elderly aunts and wants me to say hello for him to his many Edmonton friends.

A very good goodnight to all and especially to those excellent persons who sent me the welcome letters with green pieces of paper bearing the pictures of His Gracious Majesty King George enclosed.

Jail Sentence Over Cheques

A former coal company worker, Frank R. Makloshi, was sent to jail for nine months on charges of obtaining money by false pretences and uttering forged documents.

He was given three months sentence on charges of obtaining money by false pretences and nine months for uttering a forged document. Sentences run concurrently.

Detective Frank Kingzett told the court Makloshi called a forged cheque for $205 to the office of the coal company where he had been employed.

The false pretences charge followed cashing of a $15 cheque in a downtown department store where accused had no money in the bank to cover it, the detective stated.

The accused appeared on five false pretences charges last year. Magistrate A. L. Miller noted, before passing sentence.

Change Asked On South Side

City commissioners will ask council tonight to refer plans for a new, modern, southside comfort station to the finance committee.

The recommendation, a report from the superintendent, stated that present facilities at 104 street between 81 and 82 avenue, though "clean as can be expected" are in a "dilapidated" condition.

The new station, which would be a building which has outlived its usefulness and which a city owned lot next to the station be utilized to improve the situation.

The report said sale of present comfort station and scales operator expires March 31.

The operator intends to submit a plan providing for a new garage and building, 200 ft. by 100 ft. and a new comfort station and weight scales building on an adjacent city-owned lot.

COUNTRY SCHOOL WARNING

Soap and Sun Effective If Fumigation Needed

Use of soap and water and exposure to sun and fresh air is recognized as the most effective means of fumigation after contagious illnesses, Dr. M. H. Row, deputy minister of health said today.

Fumigation by gases or chemicals is no longer recommended as a satisfactory method, Dr. Row said.

"After a serious illness such as scarlet fever has occurred, the patient's room should be cleaned thoroughly with soap and water and public health nurse in the area."

"If the schools remain open, a daily check on pupils can be made by health authorities and better control of the epidemic can be achieved."

It is advisable to close schools during epidemics if public health authorities are not available, he added.

To keep schools open, provided there is a medical health officer or public health nurse in the area.

Dr. Row also advised school boards in areas where contagious disease outbreaks are reported

INTERIM PAYMENT URGED BY STIMPFLE

C. J. Stimpfle, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, has urged that the government's corn grain marketing board make an interim payment to last year's crop before seedling time.

In a telegram to Trade Minister Howe, Mr. Stimpfle said that farmers are in need of such a payment because of the short crop. If it is not made, he said that many will be forced to borrow from the banks to buy feed and seed.

Assessment of City Reaches New Records

Edmonton's 1950 assessment roll is up a record-shattering $19,817,565 over 1949, to set an all-time high of $119,542,500, City Assessor and Tax Collector J. A. MacDonald will report to city council tonight.

Of the increase, $10,207,553 is due to higher building assessments, $8,960,240 is due to the new reassessment of land announced last week, and $1,250,000 results from new assessments on taxable land sold during 1949.

Nine million dollars of the total assessment is for various city utilities—power, plant, electric, telephone, post-office and transit systems.

Mr. MacDonald said that figures for 1949 in brackets: Municipal assessment, $19,542,809; $8,762,905; Public school assessment, $6,452,680; $7,528,241; Sewerage school assessment, $15,090,720 ($12,136,060).

Writer Honored For His Stories On Shelled Ship

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Wayne Richardson, an Associated Press correspondent who braved Chinese naval gunfire for an exclusive news lead today won the George Polk Memorial Award of the Overseas Press.

Dad served with Major "G" Williams at the battle of Omdurman in the Sudan in 1898. He still remembers the day when he first saw an Indian in a turban and head feathers.

"It was sure excited at the time and don't think I'll ever forget it," he said.

OFFERED SERVICE IN 1938

On Dad's coat were six sparkling war medals, which gives you an idea of his service in the South African campaign. They were: South Africa, 1914-1915; Cape Colony, 1915-1916; Transvaal, Orange Free State and Tugela Heights.

Dad won the Most Meritorious Service Medal for service during the First World War. When war was declared in September, 1939, he wired the Department of National Defence at Ottawa and offered to serve in a fourth conflict.

Now in his 83rd year, Dad feels he should stick to gardening—a job that he likes it is second to no other. Last year he produced a 36 lb. squash in his garden. A squash of average weight in Dad's garden weighed something like 30 lb.

Admission Review City Plan

Situation Gets Airing Before Council Tonight

A climax and a turning point appear imminent tonight in Edmonton's town planning squabble, which has been exploding periodically for the past couple of years.

Creation of two bodies, a technical planning board and a planning advisory board, to be responsible for town planning, will be recommended to city council by Town Planner Noel Dant.

He will present a 13-page report on the status and general machinery of town planning, accompanied by a report from Professor Harold Spence-Sales on planning education program, Professor Harold Spence-Sales will recommend to city council tonight.

Mr. Dant himself will ask for appointment within six weeks of a qualified assistant town planner and at least two more draftsmen, to cope with the increasing volume of work in his department.

"We will develop that the city itself will ultimately need a full-time appointed public relations officer," says Mr. Dant.

Prof. Spence-Sales suggests the city pay out of an extension course, "Our City," under auspices of the University of Alberta, to which the public would be admitted free. A widespread publicity campaign in the form of a public interest should be undertaken, he says.

Wheat Plea Wins Appeal

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The income tax appeal board, reviewing the case of Henry Miller of Craik, Sask., has ordered that the revenue department make new assessment.

Miller claimed the government was taking an average of 80 cents a bushel, while the price of wheat could be as high as $1.50 a bushel.

Under the purchase deal, he was to deliver 14,500 bushels of wheat in the period 1946-50. Since the price of wheat had risen from $1.00 to $1.50, he claimed the government should be able to pay him the difference of 50 cents a bushel, until the wheat was delivered and the price realized made known.

The board agreed and ordered a new assessment on Miller's income between the years 1946-50.

Miracles Worked Now With All Materials

By Bea Thrift
Isn't it a positive treat to see the wealth of new practical materials arriving on our fashion-wise markets? Rayons, nylon, worsteds, gabardines, cottons, have all been given a dose of something or other to increase their strength, decrease their cost.

Chemists have been toying with the synthetic rayon for many a moon, trying to iron out its many difficulties. And this year we see the first positive results.

Rayon has lost that old "fleshy" look that formerly marked it as a "second-rate" fabric. Now it has a reputation for elasticity, firmness, strength of weave and adaptability of dye.

Tentile buyers here are as excited as excited can be.

And chemists have come into its own glory this season too.

Yesterday I saw a brand new fabric made from a handsome rayon. It is a celanese worsted material which has the hard-worsted durability of a real wool worsted... and has the inexpensiveness and versatility of celanese.

The frock was a tailored model of a trip-tube beige, rust, brown overtones... and with the new rayon. This material has been blessed with the virtue of crease-resistance... and you know how important that is.

And speaking of worsteds... Think a moment or two before you buy a gabardine suit. Worsteds are replacing gabardines in the suit picture. English, of course is producing better and more of their superior worsteds to get their air into the exporting business. That's why we have more this season... and why it doesn't cost as much as it ordinarily would.

Soreness of nylon has influenced the buying public that some what during the past decade.

But this year spells new triumphs for the chemists who originally dreamt up this lovely fabric from cork, wood, water.

It will be available by the time July 1 varies of releases. Look for new, sheer, pliable, cord 'n such. They'll be a treat to see, to wear, to sew.

American corduroys are perfect starters for that casual spring-time wear. Lovely shades of russet, brown, forest green, buttercup yellow, millinery, are ours for paying $2.25 and $2.80 per yard.

For a faithful follower of drapery fabrics for my wardrobe building... and the drapery corduroy is a bug about convincing a friend she should make a two-piece dress of russet corduroy. She bought it in 54-inch width from the drapery department of a favorite store... at $2.50 per yard.

That fabric wasn't that making a time with men's wear. The fabric, has suddenly sprouted into a series of tailored frocks from the new-season detail... selling for as little as $11.95 per frock.

They feature waisted gowns, dolman sleeves, button treatments and a handful of other fashion-wise trinkets.

Have a look-see at them, won't you?

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Raising Another's Family Is Hard Task

A woman is going to marry a widower with two adolescent children who have been living with their grandmother since their mother's death.

The father is particularly devoted to the older of the children, who is a beautiful and attractive young girl of 16, and the prospective stepmother frankly admits that she is consumed with jealousy of her and wants to know if it is not think that she should tell her fiancé that she is not willing to take the children with them after they are married and that he must leave them with their grandmother.

Well, if she feels that way about the children, the only decent thing to do is to state her position unequivocally on the subject and give the widower a chance to choose between her and his children. Other wise she will bring misery down on the heads of all concerned.

SHOCK TO FATHER

Of course, it will be a terrible surprise and shock to the father to find out that his beloved children are regarded as a fatal handicap to him. He never enters his dear dream head that the more a woman loves her husband, the more she is apt to resent the first wife, who had his youth and romance and pertaining to her, and that there are no women of whom she is so passionately jealous as she is of his children.

Every drop of affection that he makes to them, all the little pining that would be so precious to her if shown to her own children, tear her heart to tatters when they are lavished on the children of his first marriage.

Of course, there are some women whose arms ache for children, who take their husband's children to their breasts and love them as if they were their own.

There are big and generous-hearted women who can be fair and just to their stepchildren, and who are at all inclined to be jealous.

'Suicide Squeeze' Deserves A Prize

By William E. McKeen

An old friend of mine, Morgan Howard of Los Angeles, Calif., was in New York the other day. Mr. Howard was president of the American Contract Bridge League in 1942. He is the donor of the cup which is played for the championship of the President's Cup game at the nationals. At one time he was also very active in bridge in Pittsburgh, Pa.

At lunch, we started to talk of bridge and he had a story to tell. This led to a discussion of

WHY GROW OLD

Tape Measure Tells Secrets About Figure

By Joseph Lowman (THE QUESTION BOX)

Q. "During the first year of my marriage I gained five pounds and during every year since the first year I have gained 10 pounds."

I guess it is fortunate that I have been married only three years. The last 10 pounds did not seem so bad, although I was not underweight. The first 10 pounds was a little, but the last 10 really frightened me because I expect to stay married a long time, and soon at this rate I will not be able to get through a door. Please help!

A. Many women gain weight after marriage. They often give up sports, do not exercise and often have more regular hours and do their own cooking and washing. They also are more apt to sample from the larder. It would have been easier to lose that first 10 or the first 11, but you can lose the 35 total it will just take a little longer.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Childish Restraints Should be Minimized

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Babies dislike and rebel against restraints of any kind. Even the tiny baby will cry if held too tightly by a parent intent on putting on a diaper.

We may think of restraints as being purely physical but children all of their lives are prevented from acting in ways which seem desirable to them. They are aware that to take care of his own safety — such as the active two-year-old — is in constant conflict with an environment which punishes him for his mistakes and parents do likewise.

The restraints inspire the child to perpetrate aggressive behavior while in turn, punishes the parent. Children have enormous power to punish parents. They discover these powers early in life.

They see that the parents are upset when they do not get the food offered to them. They are aware that they are upset if heads are bumped, deliberately or accidentally, if milk is poured on the floor, if the thumb stays in the mouth, if hair or ears are pulled.

The parent shows her disturbance when the child won't use the toilet or won't close his eyes when he has said that it is bedtime. The parent is helpless against such behavior for the child can keep on doing it despite punishment.

But, meanwhile, don't think the child is unmoved by these conditions. He wants to be loved and approved by the parents and he finds that he is sternly disapproved when he goes against their wishes. There are certain to be conflicts in the child's life.

Of Clubs. East was now hopelessly squeezed. If he let go a heart, declarer's hearts would be good; while if he discarded the ten of spades, declarer's eight of spades would be good.

Tape Measure Tells Secrets About Figure

By Joseph Lowman (THE QUESTION BOX)

Q. "During the first year of my marriage I gained five pounds and during every year since the first year I have gained 10 pounds."

I guess it is fortunate that I have been married only three years. The last 10 pounds did not seem so bad, although I was not underweight. The first 10 pounds was a little, but the last 10 really frightened me because I expect to stay married a long time, and soon at this rate I will not be able to get through a door. Please help!

A. Many women gain weight after marriage. They often give up sports, do not exercise and often have more regular hours and do their own cooking and washing. They also are more apt to sample from the larder. It would have been easier to lose that first 10 or the first 11, but you can lose the 35 total it will just take a little longer.

Your husband is no doubt a little amazed, too, at this constantly inflating wife he married. Your cooking must be good and maybe that helps make up for it. Anyway, get busy and look like the girl you married again.

You will have to count calories. Use that first 10 or the first 11, but you can lose the 35 total it will just take a little longer.

Canada Reads Mail Of Reds, Russ Claim

Other Countries Also Censor Letters Going To Soviet It Says

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Foreign countries exercise strict censorship on letters to and from Russia, according to the newspaper Culture and Life.

"I do not know whether you will receive this letter," a worker in Canada was reported as saying, "because here the strictest censorship is operating in regard to the U.S.S.R."

Culture and Life added that such censorship also was reported from France, western Germany, the countries of South America and United States.

However, the newspaper said tens of thousands of letters annually reach various Soviet or satellite countries.

"In these letters," the paper said, "they tell of their experiences. They write of the trials and tribulations of Capitalistic slavery. They express their admiration and joy concerning the great successes and achievements of the Soviet country."

The paper then went on to quote from some recent ones.

"It is necessary to do much hard work to earn a dollar," a Canadian letter writer was quoted.

"We don't want old men, their place is on the rubbish dump. Only the thing remains for the old-begging."

A British writer is quoted: "Fearing persecution by the Labor Imperialist govt. agent," said this one from Strathairn, "I unfortunately can not tell you my surname or address because I undoubtedly should be lynched."

MALDON, Devonshire, England.—(CP)—Nobody at Roundhouse Hotel can have a drink for a month because proprietor V. S. Clarence mirrors the local ban and posted his notice of application for a liquor license on the wrong church door.

COAL LOAD GOES ASTRAY AT PEORIA

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—William H. Funderburk, early Saturday was one of Peoria's lucky citizens: he had a load of coal coming to the house.

The truck arrived, the men lifted a round metal plate set in the ground, and set about pouring two tons of the scarce fuel through a chute into what they thought was the basement.

It was an abandoned cinder.

Toronto Fuel Supply Scanty

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—John H. Taylor, director of the Toronto Coal Exchange, said last night that by the middle of this week coal dealers will be able to offer to house-holders only substitutes such as coke, briquettes and low grades of coal.

He said the situation worsened last week because of the United States coal strike, the first real winter cold snap which created a heavy coal demand and the difficulty in transporting coal over icy streets.

Red Germans Elated As Steel Moves East

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(AP)—West Germany lifted an allied-sponsored embargo on steel exports to the Russian zone today and advocated more trade with the east.

East German sources showed un-censored elation and announced they will seek new talks on trade expansion this week.

The steel ban, which went into effect Feb. 8, was eliminated after two weeks of bargaining behind closed doors in East Berlin.

Negotiators of the two rival German republics, one supported by Russia and the other by the western powers, issued a joint communique which avoided using the word "reprieve" at all.

Instead they deferred a bitter diplomatic issue by referring only to "the ease mark and west market recovery areas."

Both "areas" agreed that their 60,000,000 mark ($142,800,000) trade pact, which has four more months to run, should be "considerably expanded."

Both agreed they would not clamp on any embargo in the future without first talking it over together.

The Russian-German pact was sent to the west's demands that eastern buying be spread over more western industries than steel alone and that steel orders be in constant volume instead of crowded into a short period.

The easterners also pledged themselves to make up their deficit in deliveries of their own products to the west.

Dialling Changed

3 MORE HOTELS ASK PICKET INJUNCTIONS

CALGARY, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Three more hotels, making a total of 12, have filed statements of claim seeking injunctions to prevent picketing, and asking for $2,500 damages against the officials and members of the Beverage Dispensers' International Union, Local 265. It called a strike of waiters and tap men Feb. 4, against 18 Calgary hotels.

The three separate claims have been filed in supreme court by Harold W. Riley, KC, counsel for the Cecil, Victoria and Alexander hotels.

Last Tuesday, Mr. Riley filed a combined statement of claim of a similar nature for the Royal, Wales, Empress, Noble, Carleton, Yale, Empire, Imperial and Queens hotels.

Small Firms Urged To Hire College Grad

By Ronald A. Nickerson
Exclusive to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—The labor department today stepped up its drive to find jobs for a record 18,500 graduates leaving Canadian universities this spring.

In normal years, colleges graduate about 5,500 students. Last year, first of the abnormally swollen postwar classes, some 12,000 high-grade job hunters streamed out of colleges.

A large percentage of 1950's record crop will be veterans. Many will have exhausted their funds and need jobs in a hurry.

Top-level department officials admitted the task of finding jobs for all would be difficult. But they said they believed most graduates would eventually be placed.

SMALL EMPLOYERS AID

Reason for their optimism in the face of a somewhat deteriorating labor market was that the labor department and National Employment Service are extending their job-seeking efforts into a relatively unexplored field. They are approaching the thousands of small employers in Canada who "until now have given little thought to the place which graduates can play in their businesses."

More than 15,000 letters already have gone out to employers whose names were listed on a master file in the department here. The list is constantly being expanded and added to.

"The advance response to our letters has been very encouraging," one placement officer said. "The replies now are being classified to form the basis for this year's list of job openings."

Woman Dies After South Truck Crash

VULCAN, Alta., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Mrs. John Jackson of the Vulcan district was killed yesterday when the light delivery truck in which she was riding overturned on the highway two miles south of Vulcan. Her husband suffered minor injuries but was released from Vulcan hospital after treatment. Mr. Jackson is partner of the Champion Coal Company which operates a small mine near Champion, Alta.

Vulcan is 73 miles southeast of Calgary.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(Reuters)—Employers and unions will this week take decisions on wage pay claims affecting about 5,000,000 British workers in the railroad, engineering and shipbuilding industries.

On these decisions the future of the government's wage-restraining policy may depend.

Today the Railway Executive, which controls the nationalized railways, will inform the National Union of Railwaymen of its decision on the demand for a £5 (£15.50) a week minimum for about 200,000 workers in the lower-paid grades.

SIMILAR CLAIMS

Employees in the nationalized docks, canal, railway-catering and railway workshop services have already had similar wage claims rejected.

The outcome of today's meeting will be placed before a special general meeting of the union in London Thursday and Friday.

Wednesday, shipbuilding and repairing employers will give their reply to the demand for a £1-a-week increase which the unions have maintained should come out of profits. The employers will meet the leaders of the Confederation of Engineering and Shipbuilding Trade Union, representing 37 unions.

Firebrand Woman Wins

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A pert little redhead, nicknamed "the Firebrand," won a seat in parliament for the Conservatives in a district considered a cinch for Labor.

She is Miss Patricia Hornby-Smith, 36, who triumphed in Chislehurst, Kent.

The district was held to be so solidly Socialist that Conservative campaign headquarters gave Miss Hornby-Smith practically no help. She won anyway in a vigorous, no-holds-barred fight which earned her the "Firebrand" title.

The new MP, wartime private secretary to the minister of economic warfare, was one of 20 women elected to the new parliament of 158 women candidates.

Bomb Defence in U.S. Based on Early Blast

By George E. Reedy, Jr.
Exclusive to the Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—High administration officials met with the Joint Atomic Energy Committee today to discuss means of protecting civilians against new and deadly atomic weapons.

The conference, behind closed doors, was the third in a series on the adequacy, or inadequacy, of U.S. civil defenses.

The urgency of the problem is pointed up by the fact that there is a five-year gap between the kind of A-bombs being built by this country, and possibly Russia, and the kind against which plans are being made to defend U.S. cities.

The resources board has issued a series of official reports intended to guide American cities in preparing to meet an atomic attack. Others are planned.
